

As an employee for Southwest Airlines, I strongly feel the ban on inflight cell phone use should remain in force. The amount of cabin noise would be horrendous and the tranquility of cruising @ 35,000 feet would be lost. Text messaging and internet would be fine. Just no voices.